Statutory Cancellation Rights (The Consumer Contracts (Information, Cancellation and Additional Charges) Regulations 2013)

Traders are not provided with additional statutory cancellation rights.

Contracts valued under £42.00 do not attract additional statutory cancellation rights.

Consumers are provided with additional cancellation rights in the form of a 14 day cancellation period. This period starts from:-

- a) The date that your training confirmation is issued will be the commencement of the 14 day cancellation period, but only where no training materials are to be provided by the college as a part of that course.
- b) Where training materials are issued by the college, your 14 day cancellation period starts from that point. That will usually be day one of the course. You will be asked for your specific consent to provide our services by signing a "request to start work" form.

You should refer to the full terms and conditions of the contract outlined in the training confirmation or the copy issued with this enrolment form. This will detail your full cancellation rights including an outline of any amounts repayable to you in the event that you withdraw with the 14 day cancellation period having signed that form i.e. that you may have a reduction in your refund.

Cancellation Policy

N.B. This cancellation policy does not supersede your statutory cancellation rights.

If you wish to cancel or transfer a booking for a short course, written confirmation must be received by Brooksby Melton College's, Short course department a minimum of 15 days before the commencement of the course. If a written cancellation or transfer request is received 14 days or less before the commencement of the course, any fees paid in advance will not be refundable, and you will still be liable for any fees invoiced. You would then be required to pay any replacement course fee in full.

The College retains the right to amend or cancel any course and you will be notified 14 days prior to the course planned start date if a cancellation occurs. In that case, and in the event that a mutually acceptable replacement course cannot be arranged, a full refund of the course fees will be issued.
